For more than forty years Dr. John Chapman has been one of Melbourne's best-known collectors of Australiana — a familiar face in the bookshops, at auctions and book fairs, and at the meetings of the Victorian Branch of the Book Collectors' Society, of which he is a past-president and an honorary life member.

Some of his earliest purchases were made at the Barrett sale in 1959. He soon decided that, without the means to attempt the creation of a major library on his subject, he would aim instead for a cabinet collection of unusual and rare books and copies remarkable for their condition, association, or binding. The result is one of the most admired private collections of Australiana formed in his time.

A life-long resident of Victoria, Dr Chapman has particularly sought out books on the early history of the colony, the transforming gold rushes, and that great colonial saga, the Victorian Exploring Expedition, led by Burke and Wills. Historical manuscripts have been another special interest, an area in which he has had some spectacular finds, including the Deed of Settlement of the South Australian Company and documents and letters recording the foundation of Victoria. He has been drawn to fine bindings: the showing of fine colonial examples in this sale has not been matched at auction in our three decades in the business. Rare pamphlets have also held a strong appeal for him and he soon recognized the historical value of parliamentary papers, assembling over the years an unusually wide-ranging collection.

Dr. Chapman's scientific cast of mind — he was a dentist who in 1975 became the first principal of the Victorian Health Department's Dental Therapy School, is reflected in his books on medicine, science and technology, including an outstanding collection of the catalogues of industrial exhibitions held in the Australian colonies, and in his interest in forgery, on which subject he has given evidence in legal cases.

He is equally well-known as a numismatist, with a matchless collection of Australian commemorative medals. His greatest treasure in this field, the 'Charlotte Medal' of 1788, the earliest-known colonial artefact, is depicted on his bookplate, which he designed, and which is present in nearly all of the lots in the sale.

Some of the finest books that have passed through my hands have gone into this elegant collection: it has been a particular pleasure to handle them again.

CONDITIONS OF SALE & NOTES FOR BUYERS

1. The highest bidder shall be the buyer.
2. In the event of any dispute, the auctioneer may re-submit the lot or may decide the buyer, at his discretion, and his decision shall be final.
3. The auctioneer may, without giving any reason therefore, refuse to accept the bidding of any person or persons.
4. Each bid shall be an advance determined by the auctioneer.
5. The auctioneer may require the successful bidder to pay forthwith the whole or any part of the purchase price.
6. Lots are in all respects at the risk of the buyer at the fall of the hammer.
7. The successful bidder shall be deemed to be the buyer and be personally liable unless it has been agreed in writing at the time of registration and prior to the sale that a bidder is acting as agent on behalf of a third party and that such third party is acceptable to Peter Arnold Pty Ltd.
8. LIMITED GUARANTEE. All lots have been carefully examined and any faults or deficiencies found have been noted in the catalogue. It remains true that descriptions, especially of condition, are expressions of opinion. Prospective buyers are therefore asked to make their own inspections during the public viewing, and to satisfy themselves as to the condition and completeness of any lot on which they intend to bid. In the event of any book being found by the buyer to be defective in text or illustration and not so described, Peter Arnold Pty Ltd undertakes to rescind the sale and refund the full purchase price, provided that the book is returned within 14 days of the auction together with a written notice of the defect, and provided that the buyer satisfies Peter Arnold Pty Ltd that it was defective at the date of the auction. This guarantee shall not cover the absence of half-titles or divisional titles, errata leaves, advertisement leaves, plate lists, subsequently published plates, appendices, supplements or volumes, or error in the enumerating of the plates; nor any defect not affecting the completeness of text or illustration. Nor shall it apply to unnamed items in a lot or lots of more than 3 items, to periodicals, or to books already described in the catalogue as incomplete or defective in text or illustration. Nor shall it apply to any defects announced at the time of the sale. The benefits of this guarantee are not assignable and are applicable only to the original buyer of the lot.
9. A buyer's premium of 16.5% (including GST) on the hammer price of each lot up to the first $50,000 of the hammer price, and 11% (including GST) on any amount in excess of $50,000, is payable by the buyer.

REGISTRATION. Bidders are requested to register before the auction and obtain a bidding number.

ABSENTEE BIDDING. Absentee bids must be confirmed in writing no later than 3 hours before the sale. An absentee bidding form is enclosed with the catalogue. Such bids will be executed as cheaply as other bids allow.

TELEPHONE BIDDING. Arrangements for telephone bidding must be confirmed in writing no later than 3 hours before the sale, and will be restricted to lots with a lower estimate of $800 or more.

Peter Arnold Pty Ltd will not be held responsible for any error or failure to execute bids.

METHODS OF PAYMENT. Payment may be made in cash, by bank cheque or telegraphic transfer to our account. Personal cheques may be accepted by prior arrangement.

COLLECTION. Lots will not be delivered during the sale, but limited delivery will be offered at the close of each session, as time permits. We will be in attendance at Ormond Hall on Thursday, February 26th, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Packing and despatch can be arranged, at the buyer's expense. Lots not collected from Ormond Hall will be removed to our premises, 606 High Street Prahran. If any lot sold is not collected and paid for, the auctioneer and/or the seller shall have the right to resell the lot either by public or private sale, and any deficiency on resale, together with any other costs incurred, shall be borne by the defaulting buyer.

Peter Arnold Pty Ltd has no proprietary interest in any lot.

The estimated prices given are provided as a guide and should not be taken as definitive.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

My thanks to Warren Joel, of Leonard Joel, for the loan of our auctioneer, Lachlan Burnet. Thanks also to Des Cowley of the State Library of Victoria and Paul Brunton of the State Library of New South Wales for their ready assistance with bibliographical queries, and to Rachel Robarts, Stephanie Thompson and Lurline Stuart for their help in the preparation of the catalogue. A special thank you to Josie Arnold for her patience.

19 [BARKER, E.H., editor]. Geographical, commercial, and political essays. London, 1812. Octavo; uncut in original boards with printed spine label. A remarkably fine copy.

Including 'Fragments for a future history of Botany Bay, or New South Wales', pp. 179-92, and 'Curious account of a convict-ship', by Captain Bertram, pp. 193-6. Ferguson 529. $600-800

20 BARRINGTON, George. Biographical annals of suicide, or horrors of self-murder. London, 1803. Duodecimo, 4 engraved plates; half calf. Some foxing.

A very rare concoction, including the first appearance of an Aboriginal character in fiction. With an introductory letter from the purported author at Parramatta, and beginning with the 'Dreadful history of Anaboo, a native of New Holland, who killed herself through love': the frontispiece depicts the unfortunate Anaboo impaled on rocks. Ferguson 365, recording the Mitchell copy only.

$3000-5000

Lot 20

21 BARRY, Redmond. Gathering together for the good of learning; a lecture on the occasion of the opening of the Exhibition Building in Melbourne, October 1854. Melbourne, 1857. Octavo, pp. 24; original printed wrappers. With Barry's Lecture on music and poetry, 1872, and his Address ... before the University Forensic Society, 1860. $200-300

29 [BENDIGO]. Victoria. Report of the Royal Commission appointed to enquire into the best method of removing the sludge from the gold fields. Melbourne, 1859. Victorian Parliamentary Paper, small folio, pp. 80, large folding hand-coloured 'Plan of the valley of Bendigo', 2 plates of geological sections, one folding, and 4 other plates; stab-sewn as issued. With the Report from the Select Committee upon the claims of Henry Frencham as discoverer of the Bendigo gold-field, 1890, with folding map. $200-300

30 [BENNETT, George]. A catalogue of the specimens of natural history and miscellaneous curiosities deposited in the Australian Museum. Sydney, 1837. Octavo, pp. [vi], 72 with a woodcut of a platypus on the title; original wrappers (slightly chipped) hand-lettered, in quarter leather folder.

Very rare. The first catalogue of the Australian Museum, and a copy with a remarkable provenance: presented by the author to the eminent English naturalist Richard Owen, his name at the head of the front wrapper in Bennett's hand, and subsequently in the collection of Gregory Mathews, signed by him on the title. The 'miscellaneous curiosities' include lists of 'native ornaments, weapons, utensils, &c.' collected by Thomas Mitchell on his recent expeditions, and by Charles Lewis, 'commanding the Government Schooner Isabella in the late expedition to Torres Straits in search of survivors of the Charles Eaton, 1836'. $3000-5000

31 BENNETT, George. Gatherings of a naturalist in Australasia. London, 1860. Octavo, 8 hand-coloured lithographed plates; original red cloth (a secondary binding). Fine. $400-600

33 [BISCHOFF, James]. Proposals for the encouragement of emigrants, as tenants to the Van Diemen's Land Company. London, 1833. Pp. [iv], 36.

With,

VAN DIEMEN'S LAND COMPANY. Report made to the Eighth Yearly General Meeting. London, 1833. Pp. 26, folding engraved map of the 'North West Quarter of Van Diemen's Land', coloured in outline.

Two octavo pamphlets sewn together, old paper backstrip.

Bischoff's Proposals is rare: it was withdrawn following severe criticism of his over-optimistic account of the opportunities which existed for settlers.

$1000-1500

34 BLIGH, William. The Bligh notebook. Rough account—Lieutenant Wm. Bligh's voyage in the Bounty's launch from the ship to Tofua and from thence to Timor. Canberra, 1986. Two volumes octavo, facsimile of the manuscript in full morocco and transcription in quarter morocco, with a facsimile of Bligh's draft list of the mutineers on 3 separate folded leaves, enclosed in silk-lined fitted cloth box, as published. Edition limited to 550 numbered copies. $200-300

39 BONWICK, James. Geography of Australia and New Zealand. Third edition. Melbourne, 1855. Duodecimo, 4 folding lithographed maps; original cloth with pictorial paper label (spine wearing, label chipped, front endpaper slightly defective). Presentation copy, inscribed by the author to 'my dear brother'. With an autograph letter from Bonwick, 26 June 1876, referring to this work and his Last of the Tasmanians, one page duodecimo. $150-200

The only edition, scarce. $200-300

41 [BONWICK, James]. Index and digest. Record Office documents relative to Moreton Bay, for the years from 1822 to 1849 inclusive. [London, 1884]. Octavo, pp. 24; original title-wrappers. Slight staining.

63 BURKE AND WILLS. Australian Exploring Expedition. Copy of all despatches from Sir Henry Barkly and the other colonial governors on the subject. London, 1862. British Commons Paper, small folio, pp. iv, 92, [ii], 2 lithographed maps, one folding, coloured in outline; binder's cloth with leather label, bookplate of George Ernest 'Chinese' Morrison. Slight foxing. $1000-1500

Lot 64

64 [BURKE AND WILLS]. MILLAR, John, civil engineer. Sculpture. Address on the proposed Burke and Wills monument. [Melbourne, 1862]. Quarto, pp. 8 double column, tinted lithographed frontispiece; original printed wrappers, in quarter leather folder.

One of the great rarities of the literature relating to Burke and Wills. Ferguson 12586a (collation omitting the frontispiece), recording the Mitchell copy only.

65 [BURKE AND WILLS]. ROYAL SOCIETY OF VICTORIA. Progress Reports and Final Report of the Exploration Committee. Melbourne, [1863-72]. Small folio, pp. [vi], 8, 4, 2, 6, 4, 4, 8, 6, 6, 8, [14] on blue paper; contemporary crimson roan gilt (joints wearing).

The very rare 1872 issue of the official record of the Victorian Exploring Expedition — otherwise the Burke and Wills expedition, which was organised by the Royal Society of Victoria. The first 8 Reports (numbers 1-7 and a Special Report for 1859) were published in collected form in 1863; by 1872, when the Final Report was ready, there remained, its authors record, 'about 200 copies' of the 1863 printing, and it was 'resolved to publish this Final Supplementary Report, bound up in one volume with the previous Reports, and to distribute them to public institutions in the colony and elsewhere'. The complete series is consequently almost unknown on the market.

Ferguson 15185 (Mitchell only, and calling for 8pp. in the Final Report, on white paper, cf. 14pp. on blue in the present copy). $5000-7000

66 BURKE AND WILLS COMMISSION. Report of the Commissioners appointed to enquire into and report upon the circumstances connected with the sufferings and death of Robert O'Hara Burke and William John Wills, the Victorian explorers. Melbourne, 1862. Pp. xii, 104.

90 CRAIG, George Cathcart. The federal defence of Australasia. Sydney, 1897. Octavo, 21 photographic plates, one folding; original cloth. $100-150

91 CRAIG, William. Memories connected with the early gold discoveries in Victoria. [Invercargill], New Zealand, 1897. Octavo, pp. [iv], 290, 15 mounted photographs, mostly of sketches; original half roan. Signed inscription by the author on front endpaper.

‘For private circulation only’ and very rare: the original printing of Craig’s important goldfields memoir, a popularized version of which was published in London in 1903 as My adventures on the Australian goldfields. The author spent several years on various Victorian diggings and his account of his experiences includes a description of Eureka and recollections of his friend Peter Lalor, with whom he had sailed to Australia in 1852. Not in Ferguson; Bagnall SC1696a, calling for a portrait frontispiece, which is not included in the list of plates and has clearly never been present in this copy: presumably it was added to some copies. $2000-3000

Murray. Melbourne, 1853. Quarto, pp. 32 double column; contemporary red morocco, the front board gilt-lettered within a ruled frame with ornamental cornerpieces, gilt edges, by Detmold.

One of the rarest local printings of shipboard newspapers, in a fine colonial binding. Not in Ferguson, who includes a number of similar examples.

$1000-1500

103 EARL, George Windsor. The native races of the Indian Archipelago. Papuans. London, 1853. Octavo, 2 folding maps and 5 lithographed plates, one folding, 3 hand-coloured; original cloth (spine wearing).

Ferguson 9339. Chapter XII deals with the Aborigines of north Australia, and there are many references to the Aborigines passim.

$400-600

104 EARLE [i.e. EARL], George Windsor. The steam route from Singapore to Sydney via Torres Straits. Reprinted from the Nautical Magazine. [London, 1853]. Octavo, drop title, pp. 20; original wrappers.

Rare. Ferguson 9343.

$600-800

105 EARLE, Augustus. A narrative of a nine months' residence in New Zealand, in 1827. London, 1832. Octavo, 7 aquatint plates, 2 double-page, after drawings by the author; half polished calf by Riviere, top edge gilt, other edges uncut. A little foxing. With the engraved bookplate of Novar of Raith, formerly Sir Ronald Munro-Ferguson, Governor-General of Australia from 1914 until 1920.

$600-800

106 EARLE, William. History of Port Fairy. [Port Fairy, 1896]. Quarto, cover title, pp. [60]; original cloth-backed printed boards.

A noted rarity, and this issue of 60 pages unrecorded by Ferguson: his 9350 runs to 40 pages, in wrappers.

$1000-1500

107 EARP, George Butler. The gold colonies of Australia, and gold seeker's manual. A new edition, the thirty-fifth thousand. London, 1853. Small octavo, folding wood-engraved map; original printed boards.

An unusually well-preserved copy, with a notable provenance: signed at the head of title and of last leaf by Robert Hoddle, pioneer surveyor of Melbourne.

$400-600

108 [EIFFE, Patrick]. The three L's: or, lawyers, land-jobbers and lovers. A tale of South Australia twenty years ago. Adelaide, 1882. Octavo; original cloth.

$200-300

109 ELDER SCIENTIFIC EXPLORATION EXPEDITION. Handbook of instructions for the guidance of officers of the Elder Scientific Expedition to the unknown portions of Australia. Adelaide, 1891. Octavo, pp. 40; original printed wrappers (stained).

FJ. Gillen's copy, signed by him on the front wrapper, and subsequently Baldwin Spencer's, with his familiar pencilled initials.

$300-400

110 ELDER SCIENTIFIC EXPLORATION EXPEDITION. Handbook, another copy, original printed wrappers.

$200-300

111 [EMIGRATION]. A group of five emigrant's guides bound together, as under:

MACKENZIE, David. Ten years in Australia. London, 1851. Folding map coloured in outline.

MOSSMAN, Samuel. The gold regions of Australia. London, [1852]. Lacks the map.

FOSTER, John Fitzgerald Leslie. The new colony of Victoria, formerly Port Phillip. London, 1851. Including the supplement of 8 pp. dated December 1851.

126 FLINDERS, Matthew. Matthew Flinders's narrative of his voyage in the Schooner Francis, 1798. Preceded and followed by notes on Flinders, Bass, the wreck of the Sidney Cove, &c., by Geoffrey Rawson. With engravings by John Buckland Wright. [London], Golden Cockerel Press, 1946. Small folio, frontispiece, map and text illustrations, all wood-engraved; the special issue in green morocco gilt-decorated, with cloth slipcase, by Sangorski and Sutcliffe, one of 100 numbered copies.

The first printing of Flinders's journal, from the manuscript in the State Library of Victoria. $1000-1500

127 FORD, Martha. Autograph manuscript journal of a voyage in the City of Edinburgh from Gravesend to Sydney and for a few weeks after arrival, 17 November 1836—7 July 1837. Duodecimo, pp. 144 including a compass card diagram; contemporary half calf. With a manuscript commonplace book in the same hand, including some original verse, London 1832—Auckland 1865: duodecimo, contemporary red straight-grained morocco (front joint cracked). Bookplates of Geoffrey Ingleton.

The voyage to Sydney of Martha Ford, her husband Samuel, who was a medical practitioner, and their infant son, the young couple bound for New Zealand as missionaries. After an arduous voyage, broken by a stopover in Plymouth to repair a broken mast and a call at the Cape, they arrived in Sydney shortly before Martha was due to give birth to her second child. She gives an interesting account of her meetings with some notable colonists, including the widow of Governor Philip Gidley King, and the Manning family. Arthur Wilcox Manning was a passenger on the voyage as well, making his first visit to the colony: by a remarkable coincidence, his shipboard journal of 1839-40 is also in the Chapman collection (lot 471). A close friendship developed on board between the Fords and Manning, who contributes to this journal a compass card diagram similar to the one he drew in his own journal two years later.

The commonplace book includes the text of an address presented to Archdeacon Henry Williams of New Zealand on his dismissal from the Church Missionary Society in 1850, together with his reply. $1000-1500

128 FOSTER, Thomas. Review of the labours of several explorers of Australia. Also, the narrative of Mr. John King, sole survivor of the Burke and Wills expedition. Melbourne and Sydney, 1863. Octavo, pp. 16; binder's cloth retaining the original printed wrappers, the back wrapper with a wood-engraved view of Burke's grave at Cooper's Creek, after a sketch by A.W. Howitt. Some foxing.

Rare. Ferguson 9705, calling in error for only 14 pages. $1000-1500

129 FRANKLYN, Mortimer. A glance at Australia in 1880. Melbourne, 1880. Thick large octavo; original pictorial cloth (a little stained). With G.W. Griffin's New South Wales, her commerce and resources, 1888, Charles Lyne's Industries of New South Wales, 1882, J.A. Reid's Australian reader, 1882, and The origin and progress of Australian settlement, 1888, presentation copy to the Governor of Victoria, Sir Henry Brougham Loch. $200-300

Including, on pages 191-241, E.W. Andrews's journal of the voyage of the Lady Augusta along the Murray in 1853, under Captain Francis Cadell, and an account by William Randell of his contemporaneous navigation of the river in the Mary Ann. $400-600

THE NEWS LETTER OF AUSTRALASIA; OR NARRATIVE OF EVENTS: A LETTER TO SEND TO FRIENDS.

A VIEW IN THE SOUTH PARK, MELBOURNE, WITH ST. KILDA AND THE BAY IN THE DISTANCE.

The artist of the above sketch (M. Chevalier) has taken his position near the middle of the South Park, looking towards St. Kilda; the north-west corner of which favorite retreat, with the bathing ship, is seen in the distance.

ACTING on the hint given by the great success of the portraits of Aborigines in our last number, we this month give a likeness of a native lad, whose history should have a peculiar interest. Thomas Bungeelene, son of a celebrated Gipps Land Chief of the same surname, was placed several years since by Mr. La Trobe under the care of Mr. Hinkins, master of a public school at Mounce Ponds. He is now supposed to be about eleven years old. He evinces remarkable docility and attachment to his teachers, and is so far from inheriting the erratic propensity common among the blacks that whenever punishment has been necessary (corporal has never been used), a threat to send him away has always awakened in him the most lively apprehensions. He has been taught to write and read tolerably well, and possesses a good memory; the chief difficulty found in his education has arisen from the weakness of his perception of forms, which for a long time prevented his attaining a knowledge of letters.

131 GIBBONS, William Sydney. Press cuttings 'Selecta e profanis' [manuscript title]. Two volumes small folio, 93 + 48 leaves numbered in manuscript, containing mounted cuttings of Gibbons's contributions to Melbourne newspapers and periodicals, 1852-58, including the Journal of Australasia, which he edited, and with, tipped-in, 21 issues of the News Letter of Australasia, Melbourne, 1856-58, which reprinted pieces by Gibbons from the Journal: contemporary half roan (wearing), each volume with the title inscribed on Gibbons's bookplate mounted on the front board, manuscript index.

Gibbons's own record of his wide-ranging journalism, including a fine run of the News Letter of Australasia, with illustrations by Chevalier, Becker, Strutt and others, and including, in number 16, a large folding map of Melbourne and suburbs: comprising numbers 1 and 2 and 5-23, quarto, number 17 lacking the illustration. $3000-5000

132 GIBBS, SHALLARD, & Co. Illustrated guide to the International Exhibition and Sydney, its suburbs, and to places of resort in New South Wales. Sydney, 1879. Octavo, pp. [xvi], 158, [xxviii], folding plan, folding map, numerous wood-engraved illustrations, inserted advertisement leaves; original decorated wrappers (slightly chipped).

The rare first edition of this Sydney guidebook. $300-400

133 [GILES]. ROYAL GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY OF AUSTRALASIA, [New South Wales Branch]. Journal and proceedings. Vol. 5, 1891-92. Sydney, 1893. Octavo, 2 large folding maps and 18 facsimiles of early charts, mostly folding; original cloth.

A singular copy, with extensive pencilled annotation in the hand of the explorer Ernest Giles: most notably to Hawdon's 'Journal of a journey from New South Wales to Adelaide in 1838', (pp. 30-61), and to Gillett's account of his 'Exploration in Western Australia between Northam and Eucla in 1887' (pp. 74-80). Of the first Giles remarks that 'I don't know when I have read anything I like better than this journal', but he admonishes the author of the second for his geographical errors. An inscription on the front endpaper by John Flaxman of Malvern, South Australia, dated November 1894, records that this volume was presented to him by his 'dear friend' Giles; on page 32 he confirms that the annotations are in the autograph of the explorer.

134 GILLEN, FJ. Gillen's diary. The camp jottings ... on the Spencer and Gillen expedition across Australia, 1901-1902. Adelaide, 1968. Octavo, plates; original printed wrappers. $150-200

135 GIPPSLAND. Legal 'form of information', printed form completed in manuscript, Port Albert, 29 November 1848, signed by police magistrate George Stewart and Alfred Meyrick, JP, alleging that 'one Abraham Hodgkinson of Merry Man's Creek, in the District of Gippsland, licensed publican, did contrary to the terms of his recognizance shut up his licensed public house ... for some days ... thereby dispensing travellers of the necessary accommodation for themselves and horses': single leaf small folio.

George Stewart was the police magistrate who made the first official inspection of the new settlement at Port Phillip, in May–June 1836, prior to the appointment of William Lonsdale. $200–300

136 [GIPPSLAND]. PUBLICAN'S LICENCE. Manuscript application for a publican's general licence by Dugald Stewart, his public house 'to be known by the sign of the Squatter's Rest', dated at Alberton (Port Albert), 22 March 1850 and signed by the applicant and his 12 sponsors: small folio, pp. 4, with endorsement granting the application by the police magistrate at Alberton, George Stewart.

The signatories include Charles Tyers, Lachlan McAlister and William Pearson, amongst other early Gippsland identities. $300–400

137 [GISBORNE]. Victoria. Artesian wells. A report by the Government Geological Surveyor [Alfred Selwyn] ... Melbourne, 1857. Victorian Parliamentary Paper, small folio, pp. 6, folding lithographed map of 'the town and suburban lands at Gisborne', including the names of landholders, and folding plate of geological sections; unbound as issued. $200–300

138 GLIMPSES OF AUSTRALIA. A rare and elaborate collection of photographic views. London, [circa 1897]. Two volumes oblong quarto, photographic views with descriptive captions; original cloth. Repaired tear in one endpaper. $200–300

139 GODERICH, Lord Viscount and BUSBY, James. Letter of the Right Honourable Lord Viscount Goderich, and address of James Busby, Esq., British Resident, to the Chiefs of New Zealand [with translation in Maori]. Sydney, Printed at the Gazette Office by Anne Howe, [1833]. Octavo, pp. [ii], 10 printed double column in English and Maori; original blue wrappers with manuscript label in the hand of William Colenso. Some slight foxing.

Very rare and an outstanding association copy, from the library of William Colenso, pioneer New Zealand printer. Ferguson 1648: 'Printed for distribution amongst the chiefs, thirteen in number, who had addressed a letter to King George IV ... asking His Majesty to be their friend and guardian, having heard that the tribe of Marion (the French) was coming to take their land. In reply Lord Goderich [Secretary of State for the Colonies] assures them of Great Britain's friendship and introduces Mr. Busby, the British Resident'. $4000–6000

140 GOLD FIELDS. A series of 9 Victorian Parliamentary Papers relating to the Victorian gold fields, Melbourne, 1851-54, including the initial Return respecting the gold fields, 1851; Report ... on the management of the gold fields, 1853; Report ... on the expediency of establishing an assay office, 1853; Report ... on the gold fields, 1853; and Report ... on the claims for discovery of gold in Victoria, 1854: small folio, in total pp. 354; together in binder's cloth.

A collection of all the significant Papers on the subject before the Eureka rebellion. $400-600

141 GOLD FIELDS COMMISSION OF ENQUIRY. Report of a Commission appointed to enquire into the condition of the gold fields of Victoria. Melbourne, 1855. Victorian Parliamentary Paper, small folio, pp. lxxii, 366, folding hand-coloured map; half morocco.

Important enquiry into the grievances of miners in the wake of Eureka. $300-400

142 GOLD FIELDS ROYAL COMMISSION OF ENQUIRY. Report of the Royal Mining Commission appointed to enquire into the condition and prospects of the gold fields of Victoria. Melbourne, [1863]. Victorian Parliamentary Paper, small folio, pp. [iv], 490; binder's cloth. Prelims and terminal leaves spotted. $200-300

143 GOLD LICENCE. Printed licence to mine or dig for gold in Victoria, made out to Edward Aberdeen for a period of three months in 1853, at a cost of two pounds, and signed by Gold Fields Commissioner J.M. Clow: folded leaf, about 19 centimetres square. Some wear along the folds and light staining on the verso, but in good state.

An unusually well-preserved example of this scarce document; its high cost was of course one of the chief grievances of the miners before Eureka. $400-600

144 GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND, Parliament. A collection of 32 Acts relating to the Australian colonies, London, 1784-1839, together in one volume small folio: quarter calf, manuscript list of contents in the hand of Robert Lowe, Lord Sherbrooke, bound in.

A remarkable assembly, forming a virtually complete series of the British statutes relating to Australia, from the earliest enacted and throughout the first half century of settlement. Including:

‘An Act for the effectual transportation of felons and other offenders’, 1784, pp. [16] — re-establishing the transportation system, under which the first consignment of convicts were sent to Botany Bay with the First Fleet (Ferguson 3);

the foundational ‘Act to enable His Majesty to establish a Court of Criminal Judicature on the eastern coast of New South Wales, and the parts adjacent’, 1787, pp. [6] (Ferguson 22);

‘An Act to provide ... for the better administration of justice in New South Wales and Van Diemen’s Land, and for the more effectual government thereof’, 1823, pp. [22]—establishing judicatures in the two colonies (Ferguson 914);

‘An Act to provide ... for the government of His Majesty’s settlements in Western Australia, on the western coasts of New Holland’, 1829, pp. [2] – the foundation document (Ferguson 1267), together with the three Acts in continuation, 1835, 1836 and 1838; and

‘An Act to empower His Majesty to erect South Australia into a British province or provinces and to provide for the colonization and government thereof, 1834, pp. [8], (Ferguson 1797), with the amending Act of 1838.

From the library of the distinguished lawyer and politician Robert Lowe, who arrived in Sydney from England in 1842, returning in 1850; and subsequently in the celebrated collection of James Edge Partington (item 20 in the 1934 catalogue, since rebound).

163 HENTY, Thomas. Autograph letter, signed, 'Red Hill' [near Launceston], 3 September 1837 to his son James, at 'Richmond', Portland Bay, 2 pages quarto and integral leaf with address panel and seal. Slight fold tears.

Historic letter from the Henty patriarch to his eldest son James, who had travelled to Portland from Launceston to inspect the lands recently opened up by his brothers in the valley of the Wannon. 'It is now time' he declares, 'for you to fix upon the spot of where you intend our principal location shall be – water, and water carriage are of the first importance, combined if possible, with the best grazing run for cattle & sheep. I would claim to the full amount of the allotment of what was given to us at Swan River – I have a sort of message by [daughter-in-law] Eliza from Sir James Stirling that there is a tract of land which I may take within ten years by paying 6s. per acre. It is well to have two strings to our bow... At South Australia they are at loggerheads – Gouger and Osmond Gillies have been fighting and kicking each other – the Governor sent a file of marines to take them into custody and bound them over to keep the peace – I suppose the difficulties they did not expect (but everyone else did) they now feel, which makes them feverish, and forebodes the downfall of their speculation. Take good care of the natives — I fear nothing but for them ...’ $6000-8000

187 JOHNSON, Rev. Richard, Chaplain to the Colonies. An address to the inhabitants of the colonies established in New South Wales and Norfolk Island. Written in the year 1792. London, Printed for the Author, 1794. Duodecimo; later panelled calf.

Very rare. The first book circulated in Australia, by the chaplain to the First Fleet and first clergyman in the new colony. His address reflects his compassion for the 'unhappy prisoners and convicts' and his concern at the moral degradation he has witnessed, on the part both of the convicts and their military overseers, in the first years of the settlement. He urges them, in closing, to set an example for the sake of the 'poor unenlightened savages who daily visit us, and who reside amongst us'. $10,000-15,000

213 LANGLEY, W.E., editor. Ye Olde Englyshe Fancye Fayre at ye Garden Palace. Ye booke of ye sportes and ye stalls. [Sydney, 1882]. Quarto, cover title, pp. [iv], 40 printed within decorative red border and illustrated throughout by George Rossi Ashton; original pictorial boards neatly rebacked. $100-150

214 LATHAM, Richard. Two autograph letters, signed, London, 21 May 1940 and 'a few days later', to his father Sir John Latham, Chief Justice of Australia, concerning Britain's perilous war situation: 2 pages quarto and 1 page duodecimo. Some minor insect damage. Together with a carbon copy of a typed letter from Sir John Latham to Prime Minister Menzies, Melbourne 20 June 1940, discussing his son's letters: 2 pages small folio.

Significant wartime correspondence. The younger Latham, who was working in the British Foreign Office, writes that 'If the United Kingdom should ever come under the most systematic tyranny the world has ever seen, there is no reason why the non-European parts of the British Empire shall as well. I hope ... if ever a surrender becomes imminent ... that the last act of a free British Government would be to cede the dependant Empire to the United States, and with the Dominions to seek alliance or confederation with her. If this is not done the Dominions should take it into their own hands to do it ... We are very much up against the wall [but] I do not feel in the least defeatist, because I really do think Hitler is staking everything on a quick victory, and that we can hold out long enough to frustrate that.'

Sir John's letter to Menzies, which he heads 'Most secret and personal' endorses his son's suggestion 'if the worst happens'. Sold with typescript copies of Richard Latham's letters. $400-600

281 COLE, E.W. Autograph manuscript journal kept from 5 January to 26 July 1862, with breaks, and regularly from 30 September 1865 to 16 June 1866, partly in shorthand, these passages with a pencilled translation added by another hand, in a copy of Letts's Diary for 1862: octavo, original cloth. With 2 examples of a contemporary stereoscopic photograph by Cole of Murray River Aborigines, one print mounted, both with a small defect; and with 2 letters in the hand of Cole's daughter Linda, writing to her brother Eddie in August 1927, 2 leaves in pencil, concerning the sale of the Book Arcade as a going concern.

A remarkable survival, the diary kept by the thirty-one-year-old Cole during a four-month journey down the Murray River and subsequently as he begins his career as a bookseller. Setting off from Echuca on New Year's Day 1862, in the company of the photographer George Burnell, he travelled in a flat-bottomed boat to Goolwa on the southern shores of Lake Alexandrina in South Australia. En route the pair collected seeds and plants for Baron von Mueller and took a series of stereoscopic photographs, which are the earliest photographic record of the region, depicting people and properties as well as the topography of the Murray. The diary gives Cole's observations and impressions for parts of the journey, breaks off in March, then resumes in May with brief entries for two months when he is back in Melbourne. Three years later he begins again, recording that on Saturday, 30 September 1865, he 'regularly started book shop in Eastern Market,' taking £1.14s. on that opening day, and commencing with 'about 600 books and 600 periodicals' which cost him about £17. For the next nine months he records his daily takings and outlays: the modest beginnings of Australia's most celebrated bookseller. By the 1880s his Book Arcade was one of the sights of Marvellous Melbourne; by the end of the century it extended from Bourke to Collins Street and there were branches in Sydney and Adelaide. Sold with a typed transcription of the diary entries for 1862 and associated reference material. $3000-4000

282 COLE'S BOOK ARCADE. Two coloured postcards of the celebrated bookshop, exterior and interior views, early twentieth-century, in the original pictorial envelope. $100-150

THOMAS J. WISE & OTHER FORGERS

316 BROWNING, Robert. Gold hair. A legend of Pornic. London, 1864 [but printed circa 1890]. Small octavo, pp. 16; early twentieth-century half red morocco, by Wood of London, with the armorial bookplate of Frederick William Brown.

An attractive example of a Thomas Wise forgery. $400-600

317 HORNE, Richard Hengist. Galatea secunda, an odaic cantata, addressed to H.R.H. Prince Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh, on his first arrival in the Colony of Victoria. Melbourne, For Private Circulation, 1867 [but probably London, printed circa 1881]. Quarto, pp. [4] on laid paper (watermarked 1873). With a copy of another issue, on wove paper.

A forgery attributed to Wise's associate, Henry Buxton Forman. $200-300

318 RUSKIN, John. Letters on art and literature. Edited by Thomas J. Wise. London, Privately Printed, 1894. Octavo; original cloth. With Letters from Robert Browning to various correspondents, edited by Wise, 1895, in original printed wrappers (stained and worn).

Both 'limited to a few copies for private circulation only'. $100-150

319 CARTER, John and POLLARD, Graham. An enquiry into the nature of certain nineteenth century pamphlets. London, 1934. Octavo, plates; original cloth, top edge gilt, in dustjacket.

A fine copy of this classic work, with, loosely enclosed, an autograph letter, signed, from Thomas Wise, 5 July 1933, 2 pages octavo, referring to pamphlets by Sir Walter Scott. $400-600

320 CARTER, John and POLLARD, Graham. An enquiry into the nature of certain nineteenth century pamphlets. Second edition, with an epilogue [and with] A sequel to An enquiry ... The forgeries of H. Buxton Forman and T.J. Wise re-examined by Nicolas Barker and John Collins. London, [1983]. Two volumes octavo, illustrations; original cloth in dustjackets. With 21 books, pamphlets and offprints relating to the Wisean forgeries: a fine collection.

Including Dr. Chapman's own contribution to the literature on the subject, 'The Wise case: a flaw in the evidence', offprinted from the Bulletin of the Bibliographical Society of Australia and New Zealand, 1991. $600-800

321 CARTER, John and POLLARD, Graham. An enquiry into the nature of certain nineteenth century pamphlets. Second edition, [with] A sequel to An enquiry, two volumes, the special issue of 80 numbered copies in morocco with a copy of Two poems by Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning, London, 1854, original printed wrappers, in a quarter morocco folder, and with A note on Two poems by Nicolas Barker; together in cloth slipcase as published.

The Two poems of 1854, of which a cache of copies surfaced in the 1880s, is thought to have given Wise the idea for his forgeries. $600-800

322 WELLS, Gabriel. The Carter-Pollard disclosures. New York, 1934. *Octavo, pp. 14, [ii], tipped-in postscript slip; quarter cloth retaining the original printed wrappers. London, 1729. Octavo; contemporary calf (a little marked, front joint cracking).

$600-800

332 [RITSON, Joseph, editor]. Robin Hood: a collection of all the ancient poems, songs and ballads now extant relative to that celebrated outlaw: to which are prefixed historical anecdotes of his life. London, 1795. Two volumes octavo, folding engraved plate and woodcuts in the text by Thomas and John Bewick; nineteenth-century green morocco, panelled spines richly gilt, sides with gilt-ruled borders enclosing gilt cornerpieces, gilt edges, by J. Wright.

First edition, finely bound.

333 RONALDS, Alfred. The fly-fisher's entomology. Illustrated by coloured representations of the natural and artificial insect. London, 1836. Octavo, 19 hand-coloured plates etched by the author; original cloth (spine a little worn). Some foxing of the text.

The first edition of this angling classic. Ronalds emigrated to Australia in 1848 and two years later issued the first commemorative medal engraved and struck in Australia, the Victorian Separation medal. The following year he compiled the first practical guide for miners on the newly discovered goldfields (lot 546). A copy of the family history, The Ronalds family in Australia, is sold with this lot and the following 6 lots.

$1500-2000

334 RONALDS, Alfred. The fly-fisher's entomology. Third edition. London, 1844. Octavo, 20 hand-coloured plates; original cloth. Fine.

$600-800

335 RONALDS, Alfred. The fly-fisher's entomology, another copy of the third edition, interleaved, with copious annotation by an early owner, A.J. Lane, and embellished by him with 32 mounted artificial flies, as well as 5 watercolour and 16 chromolithographed illustrations of further specimens; contemporary half calf (a little worn). A few leaves of additional notes by Lane loosely enclosed.

An important copy, incorporating the experience of another keen student of the subject. Little seems to be known about Lane, but a finely illustrated angling manuscript by him, dating from 1843, was published in facsimile in 1995 by the Medlar Press, London. $4000-5000

336 RONALDS, Alfred. The fly-fisher's entomology. Sixth edition. London, 1862. Octavo, 20 hand-coloured plates; original cloth. $300-400

Edition limited to 250 sets numbered and signed by the publishers. $4000-5000

339 RONALDS, Alfred. The fly-fisher's entomology. A new edition, with extra coloured plates. Edited by H.T. Sheringham. London, 1921. Octavo, 29 plates, 21 coloured; original cloth. $100-150

340 SHAKESPEARE, William. Antony and Cleopatra. A tragedy ... accurately printed from the text of Mr. Steevens's latest edition. [London, circa 1800]. Octavo, pp. [iv], 140 (last leaf excised), interleaved with blue paper, the whole copiously annotated; later half morocco.

Highly important prompt copy, signed on the title 'R.W.Younge, Theatre Royal Melbourne, Feby. 1856', and marked up by him for performance. Robert W. Younge was the stage-manager for the tragedian G.V. Brooke, who was brought to Melbourne in 1855 by George Coppin. His notes, which appear on almost every page both of text and interleaves, include stage directions, deletions, glosses, and commentary. The final, excised leaf contained the play's concluding 14 lines, Caesar's speech, which was to be omitted from this production.

A rare survival from the Melbourne theatre of the gold era, of great interest both for the handling of Shakespeare's text and for the detailed record of staging. $4000-5000

A relic of the wreck of the Loch Ard in 1878: with a manuscript note by the binder to this effect.
$100-150

454 LONDON MISSIONARY SOCIETY. Manuscript letter of instruction to Captain Robert Morgan of the missionary vessel John Williams, preparatory to his departure for the South Pacific in 1851, signed by the Society's Foreign Secretary Arthur Tidman, London, 14 July 1851: 16 pages small folio, bound in half calf. Last leaf stained, small defect in this and preceding leaf.

Detailed instructions for a four-year tour, including three voyages through the Pacific from Sydney, transporting missionaries and supplies to the Society's mission stations, and collecting produce for sale in London. Morgan was by this date very experienced: he had brought the first settlers to South Australia in the Duke of York in 1836, and three years later, when in command of the missionary vessel the Camden, he had witnessed the slaying of John Williams after he had been landed on the beach at Erromanga. Sold with a folder of associated reference material. $1000-1500

455 [McALISTER, Lachlan and LOUGHNAN, James]. Manuscript court records of a committal hearing held in Melbourne in July 1846, concerning an alleged challenge to a duel, 'against the peace of our Sovereign Lady the Queen': 66 pages small folio, bound in quarter morocco.

In 1845 James Loughnan, a pioneer Gippsland pastoralist, wrote to the Colonial Secretary in Sydney alleging that another local pastoralist, Lachlan McAlister, had attempted to bribe Crown Lands Commissioner Charles Tyers, who was responsible for establishing station boundaries. Loughnan subsequently withdrew the accusation, but it had been reported in the Sydney press and McAlister demanded a written apology. When this was not forthcoming he asked a neighbour, William Pearson, to call on Loughnan and demand a duel. Loughnan reported this threat to the authorities at Alberton and the subsequent hearing resulted in McAlister and Pearson being bound over, on bail of £50, to stand trial in General Quarter Sessions at Melbourne. The case was eventually abandoned for want of evidence, with the Port Phillip Herald opining that the attempted prosecution had been a scandalous waste of public money. $600-800

456 [MACARTHUR, James]. New South Wales; its present state and future prospects: being a statement with documentary evidence submitted in support of petitions to His Majesty and Parliament. London, 1837. Octavo, folding hand-coloured map, folding table; original moiré cloth (slightly worn). Occasional foxing as usual.

An important political statement, composed by the English librarian Edward Edwards from materials supplied by Macarthur. $200-300

457 [MACARTHUR, James]. Papers relating to New South Wales [binder's title]. [London, 1837]. Octavo, pp. 314; contemporary moiré cloth (slightly worn), leather spine label.

Very rare. A prior sectional issue of the previous item, bound in similar cloth, and consisting of the appendices to that work, but not including the final three leaves of additional statistics, and with the 'List of Appendix', 5 leaves, moved from the beginning to the end, slightly altered, and printed on lighter paper. Pages 103-06 are also on this lighter paper and without the press signature present in the complete work, and the printer's colophon now appears on page 313.

A prime association copy, with the bookplate of Sir William Molesworth, chairman of the historic Select Committee on Transportation of 1837, to which Macarthur gave evidence. In a letter to his brother William dated 8 June, 1837, Macarthur described the documentary appendices to his work as 'a sort of textbook in the committee' (Mitchell Library MSS, quoted by Metcalfe, Edward Edwards, 1952): apparently this advance issue was produced for the members of the committee. From the Bonython sale, with the collector's bookplate. Sold with a folder of associated reference material. $1500-2000

458 McCOMBIE, Thomas. The colonist in Australia; or the adventures of Godfrey Arabin. London, 1850. Duodecimo; original cloth (slightly marked).

Including 'An essay on the Aborigines of Australia'. $100-150

459 McCOMBIE, Thomas. History of the Colony of Victoria from its settlement to the death of Sir Charles Hotham. Melbourne, 1858. Octavo; original cloth. $150-200

460 [McCRAE]. FENELON, François de Salignac de la Mothe. Adventures of Telemachus, the son of Ulysses, in French and English. A new edition. Calais, 1830. Two volumes duodecimo; contemporary half calf.

The celebrated Georgiana McCrae's copy of this bilingual text, both volumes signed, and with the names of the pupils attending her classes in the 1860s entered by her against the passages she has set them for translation. $300-400

461 McCRAE, Geogiana. Georgiana's journal. Melbourne a hundred years ago. Edited by Hugh McCrae. Sydney, 1934. Quarto, coloured portraits of Georgiana and Andrew McCrae and numerous other plates; original cloth in slightly torn pictorial dustjacket. A little foxing as usual. Signed by Hugh McCrae. $100-150

462 McDONALD, D., photographer and publisher. The cabinet album of Australian views. First series. Melbourne views. Melbourne, 1866. Oblong quarto, 24 mounted photographs, albumen prints, with accompanying letterpress; original half morocco, gilt edges.

All published and rare. Baldwin Spencer's copy, with his characteristic pencilled initials on the blank prelim. $3000-4000

463 MACDONALD, J.G. Journal ... on an expedition from Port Denison to the Gulf of Carpentaria and back. Brisbane, 1865. Duodecimo, pp. [ii], iv, 5-60, fine engraved frontispiece portrait, large folding lithographed map, linen-backed as issued, with some outline colouring, and including an inset map of north Queensland in contemporary manuscript, coloured in outline, showing the explorer's track; contemporary crimson morocco, spine with gilt ornaments, sides gilt-ruled, red edges, by Sherriff & Downing, Sydney.

A superb copy, with an additional manuscript map, and in a fine colonial binding—presumably for presentation, though there are no clues as to its original ownership. $10,000-15,000

Lot 463

464 [McGINN, G.R. and RENDLE, J.J., compilers]. Abridged report on the Northern Territory of Australia: its natural features, pastures, minerals, present resources, and future possibilities. Bound with,

MAJOR, R. H. Extract from a letter addressed to Sir Henry Ellis, K.H., 'On the discovery of Australia' by the Portuguese in 1601, five years before the earliest discovery hitherto recorded'. London, 1861.

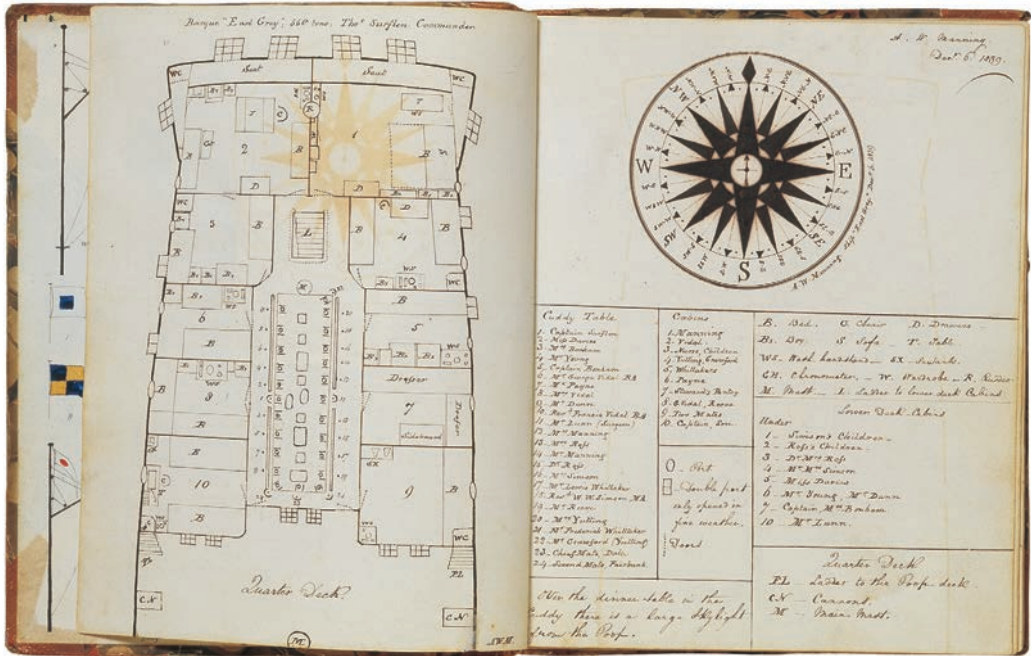

Octavo, pp. xii, cxx, 200, 6 maps, 5 folding + 14, double-page map; contemporary crushed maroon morocco elaborately gilt, green morocco panel doublures within dentelle borders, leather hinges, gilt edges.

A magnificent copy, bound with the rare supplement, and inscribed by Major to the naturalist James Gurney. Item 475a from the renowned Maggs catalogue 491 of 1927, 'Australia and the South Seas'. $4000-6000

470 MANING & BISHOP, publishers. Maning & Bishop's Geelong and Western District Directory for 1882-83. Geelong, 1882. Octavo; original cloth. Fine.

471 MANNING, Arthur Wilcox. Autograph manuscript journal of a voyage from Plymouth to Sydney on the Barque Earl Grey, from 29 October 1839 to 25 February 1840. Small quarto, 188 pages closely written in a clear hand, including a page of coloured illustrations of flags and signals, with further coloured illustrations of flags on the front pastedown, a plan of the vessel with a key, a compass card diagram, list of passengers and officers, and a daily chronology of latitude and longitude; original half sheep.

The shipboard journal of a twenty-one-year-old first-class passenger on a voyage to Sydney, embarking on a new life together with his bride: an outstanding example from the early emigration era, written 'for another's perusal' and worthy of publication.

The cultivated young author gives a revealing commentary on the social mores of the period and the difficulties faced on the long voyage: illness, overcrowding and shortage of provisions. He writes vividly about such shipboard occurrences as a mutinous sailor threatening the captain, waking to find his face covered with cockroaches, observing a human corpse floating by, and discovering an albatross on deck with a message on a leather collar. Shortage of provisions forced the captain to make a four-day stop at the Cape, which Manning describes at some length.

The fourth son of John Edye Manning, who had arrived in Sydney in 1828 to become the registrar of the Supreme Court, Arthur Manning had a distinguished career as a government official in New South Wales and Queensland.

500 NATURFORSCHENDEN GESELLSCHAFT, ZURICH. An die Zuercherische Jugend, auf das Jahr 1804. VI Stueck. [Zurich, 1804]. Quarto, drop title, pp. 16, engraved frontispiece and engraved vignette illustration; disbound and stab-sewn, outer and bottom edges uncut. Some slight foxing, in fresh, attractive state.

‘To the youth of Zurich’: an annual publication for young people by the Naturforschenden Gesellschaft, or Natural Philosophy Society, issued from 1799. The present issue is entirely devoted to an account of New Holland — its discovery, natural history and inhabitants, and would appear to be the earliest separate publication on Australia for children. The frontispiece depicts Aborigines fishing as Europeans arrive in a longboat, with a flying-fox in the trees above them, and the vignette illustration is of a lyrebird and a wombat. Not in Ferguson and very rare. $3000-4000

PORT PHILLIP.

*Colonial Secretary's Office,
Sydney, New South Wales,
9th September, 1836.*

HIS Majesty's Government having authorised the location of Settlers on the Vacant Crown Lands, adjacent to the shores of Port Phillip, under the same Regulations as are now in force, for the alienation of Crown Lands in other parts of New South Wales, and several Persons having already passed over there from Van Diemen's Land, His Excellency the GOVERNOR has been pleased to appoint Captain WILLIAM LONSDALE, of the 4th, King's own Regiment, to be Police Magistrate for that District, of which all Persons concerned are hereby required to take Notice.

Arrangements are in progress for effecting the Survey and Measurement of such parts of the Land near Port Phillip, as it may be expedient to dispose of, in the first instance, but until the same have been completed, of which due Notice will be given, no Applications for Purchase can be entertained:

In the mean time, it is distinctly to be understood by those Persons, who may be desirous of resorting to Port Phillip from other parts of New South Wales, or from Van Diemen's Land, that no advantage will be obtained by the occupation of any Land at that place, previous to its conveyance by a legal instrument from the Government of New South Wales, as without such Title the Land (unless required for Public purposes) will be subject to be put up for competition at a Public Sale and sold to the best bidder.

BY HIS EXCELLENCY'S COMMAND,

ALEXANDER M'LEAY.

524 [PORT PHILLIP]. NEW SOUTH WALES, Colonial Secretary's Office. Port Phillip. His Majesty's Government having authorized the location of settlers on the vacant Crown Lands, adjacent to the shores of Port Phillip ... and several persons having already passed over there from Van Diemen's Land, His Excellency the Governor has been pleased to appoint Captain William Lonsdale, of the 4th, King's Own Regiment, to be Police Magistrate for that District, of which all persons concerned are hereby required to take notice ... By His Excellency's Command, Alexander McLeay. [Sydney, 1836]. Small folio broadside. Slight marginal defect.

Extremely rare. The first printed document circulated in the Port Phillip District, announcing Lonsdale's appointment and giving notice that legal title to land in the new settlement will not be offered until the first survey is completed, when a public auction will be held. Lonsdale arrived in September 1836 to find a settlement of 224 residents, and acted as superintendent until La Trobe took over in 1839.

Not in Ferguson. See Historical Records of Victoria, volume 1 page 53, for McLeay's instructions to Lonsdale, including the advice that 'A Government notice of your appointment has been issued, and printed, which you will cause to be posted and circulated at Port Phillip'.

525 [PORT PHILLIP]. Expedition from Van Diemen's Land to Port Phillip in 1835. [Hobart], 1885. Tasmanian Parliamentary Paper, small folio, pp. [ii], 22; stapled as issued.

A scarce and little-known collection of reports and correspondence relating to Batman's expedition. $400-600

526 PORT PHILLIP ASSOCIATION. Manuscript memorial to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Lord Glenelg, dated Hobart Town, 27 June 1835, and signed by John Batman, John Helder Wedge, Joseph Tice Gellibrand, Charles Swanston, John and William Robertson (joint signature) and 7 other members of the Port Phillip syndicate: 6 pages small folio and integral blank leaf, paper watermarked 1828; original pink ribbon tie, in a half calf folder.

Two days before its legal establishment as the Port Phillip Association, the syndicate writes to Lord Glenelg, urging him to overrule Governor Bourke's rejection of their claims to land based on Batman's treaties with the Port Phillip Aborigines. This is the syndicate's retained copy of the document, signed by all but one of the original signatories, James Simpson, and in remarkably fine state.

'We are fully persuaded' they write, 'that the perusal of [Batman's report to Governor Arthur] will clearly demonstrate that an intercourse has been established by our means, which promises the most happy and philanthropic results, and that the portion of the country granted to Mr. Batman, as our representative, has been obtained upon terms more equitable and just to the aboriginal possessors of the soil than any which the history of the British plantations can produce. We have not fully contented ourselves with merely purchasing the land in the first instance, but we have reserved to the chiefs an annual tribute, payable for ever, of the value of at least £200. ... This tract of country is some hundreds of miles beyond the jurisdiction of New South Wales. ... We might therefore have contented ourselves with this treaty with the aboriginal tribes and quickly have taken possession of their land without any official notice, either to the British or Colonial Governments; but, in the first instance, we were desirous of communicating the happy results which had attended the intercourse with the natives, and in the next place, of at once apprising His Majesty's Government of the nature of the grants which have been obtained and the terms under which the land has been granted; because we feel confident that, having obtained from the chiefs of the tribe, who are in fact the owners of the soil, a title based on equitable principles, the Crown will, under your Lordship's advice, relinquish any legal or constructive right to the land in question, especially as the very destruction of our title would be taking away from the natives the tribute which is thus secured to them for ever'.

Of course Glenelg was hardly likely to be persuaded by such opportunistic arguments, or to overrule the representative of the Crown; but the members of the Association were eventually granted a small fraction of the land they claimed.

With a British Parliamentary Paper of 1838, 4 pages small folio, reporting the appointment of Robinson as Chief Protector of the Aborigines at Port Phillip.*

'Protector' Robinson's narrative of his expedition to the Aboriginal tribes of south-eastern Australia, accompanied by George Henry Haydon and ten others, including six native policemen. Leaving Melbourne in May, the party travelled to Wilson's Promontory, then further east to present-day Lakes Entrance, north to Lake Omeo and across the Snowy Mountains to Twofold Bay, south to Cape Howe, north over the mountains again to Yass, then back to Melbourne via Gundagai, Albury and Seymour: a journey of more than two thousand miles lasting six months. Robinson's account of the tour is an important record, including detailed descriptions of the various tribes, and of the stations, townships, and terrain encountered. Among the white settlers he meets are Charles Tyers and Hamilton Hume, who recalls that the Aborigines of Westernport 'invited him to go to a white man at Indented Head since ascertained to be Buckley, the individual who lived thirty years with the natives'. Sold with a copy of the Mackaness printing of the manuscript, Sydney, 1941, edition limited to 60 copies. $8000-10,000

Smith was Elizabeth's cousin, and after Cook's death helped look after her, staying the winter months at her home in Clapham. He writes from there that 'I intended on calling on you this morning, had not the thick fogg prevented my journey to town to thank you for a fine hare you sent last Wednesday to Mrs. Cook & she desires me to return her thanks. . .' Smith became a Captain in about 1790, and retired as a Rear-Admiral.

With an autograph letter, signed, by Lieutenant-Colonel Molesworth Phillips, the officer who shot the Hawaiian who killed Captain Cook: London, undated, one page octavo, laid down.

Phillips is represented in Webber's famous depiction of the death of Cook.

Deed of Settlement 1836. Manuscript indenture on vellum, dated London, 27 June 1836, between George Fife Angas, Thomas Smith and Henry Kingscote, directors of the South Australian Company, and the shareholders, setting forth the objects of the Company, regulating the conduct of its financial affairs, and the arrangements for its directors, bankers, solicitors and colonial manager Samuel Stephens, and including a signed register of shareholders, including the directors, 1836-38. Folio, the deed of settlement on 20 leaves ruled in red, nearly all with a twenty-five-shilling revenue stamp in the margin; the register of some 300 shareholders and their holdings on 12 leaves with wax seals on silk ribbons, most shareholders signing in person (with some proxy signatures by attorneys), with 4 spare leaves headed and ruled and with the seals; in the original calf binding with large blue morocco gilt label on the front board, extremities slightly worn.

THE FOUNDING OF SOUTH AUSTRALIA:

A MAJOR AUSTRALIAN HISTORICAL MANUSCRIPT

The British Government's South Australian Act of 1834, drafted largely by Edward Gibbon Wakefield and his supporters, had created a special Colonization Commission, which was appointed in May 1835. It was charged with selling £35,000 of land in the proposed colony at a price of 20 shillings an acre; but there were insufficient buyers because the land was practically unknown and unsurveyed, and at the same time free grants in New South Wales were being offered. A year after the appointment of the Commission the scheme was in danger of collapsing, like two earlier attempts to promote the establishment of a Wakefield colony on the southern coast of Australia. The situation was retrieved by George Fife Angas, who offered 12 shillings an acre for what remained unsold. To hasten the settlement Angas agreed with Thomas Smith and Henry Kingscote to pool their land purchases and to form a joint stock company, the South Australian Company. It was established, as set out in this document 'for the purpose of purchasing and renting land within the said colony and of erecting wharfs, warehouses, dwelling-places and other buildings ... and letting the same to the colonists or otherwise disposing of them, and the improvement and cultivation of other parts of the land ... and the laying out of farms and the erection of suitable buildings thereon and letting the same to industrious tenants on lease with the right of purchase ... and the promotion of the growth of wool in the said colony and the pursuit of the whale and other fisheries in the gulfs and seas'.

The Company purchased three vessels and, impatient with the Commission's delay, sailed for Australia in advance of the official party, its ships arriving at Kangaroo Island a few weeks before Colonel Light and his survey staff in the Rapid, and five months before Governor Hindmarsh's arrival in the Buffalo. Under the terms of the South Australian Act, the colony was to be self-funding, from the sale of land; but the initial capital was quickly used up in official salaries and residences and other expenses, and most of the settlers had little money to invest after buying their land. The infant settlement soon became bankrupt and its officials bitterly divided. In this dire situation, the role of the Company was crucial. 'As the Commissioners' coffers became depleted, the funds of the Company were replenished by successive calls and investments of capital. This was, in the opinion of practically the whole community of the early settlers of the colony, the true reason why, in the most critical period of its history, the settlement was not abandoned and its enthusiastic projectors forced to betake themselves either to New South Wales or Van Diemen's Land; or perhaps back again to the Old Country, there to acknowledge that their schemes had been visionary and their work was thrown away' — Sutherland, The South Australian Company.

The Company was obliged to undertake a good deal of the usual work of government: it opened up the land by building roads and bridges, erected and subsidised schools, and provided most of the employment. Amongst other activities, it established the first bank, built wharves, stores and mills, imported sheep and cattle, promoted mineral discovery and found markets for agricultural produce. By wide publicity it persuaded many rich and influential families to migrate to South Australia; it sought out tradesmen; and its tenancy plans attracted large numbers of farmers and agricultural labourers.

Without the Company's involvement, the founding of the colony might have been delayed for years; and once established, it might not have survived without the Company, sharing the fate of many remote settlements. To quote Sutherland again, 'No British settlement has ever received more direct and permanent advantage from the establishment of a private company than South Australia'.

585 STEWART, Robert. Report from the Select Committee on the Petition of Robert Stewart; together with the proceedings of the Committee, minutes of evidence, and appendix. Sydney 1863. Small folio, pp. 20 and lithographed sketch map; sewn as issued.

Stewart claimed that in 1816 his father, William Stewart, a master mariner, had received from Governor Macquarie a grant of land at the mouth of the Hawkesbury opposite Long Island; that in 1819 his father sailed south from Port Jackson in command of a government expedition to explore the coast as far as Jervis Bay and Bateman's Bay, and that the vessel was wrecked with the loss of all of the party, reportedly at the hands of the Aborigines of Twofold Bay. He now claims compensation for the lapse of the grant, and the committee enquiring into his petition examines several old colonists, one of whom testifies that William Stewart was Captain of the Lady Nelson in 1805 and subsequently made a number of coastal explorations at Macquarie's behest. Despite the interval of forty-seven years, the government eventually finds in the son's favour.

With an autograph letter, signed, from Alexander McLeay, Colonial Secretary of New South Wales, Sydney, 1 June 1827, regarding an application for a copy of the original land grant, one page small folio; a scribal copy of a further petition by Stewart, circa 1866, 6 pages small folio (some wear); and a manuscript letter signed by Henry Parkes, Colonial Secretary of New South Wales, Sydney, 23 July 1866, awarding the petitioner compensation of £300, one page small folio. $600-800

611 TROLLOPE, Rev. William. Autograph manuscript journal of a voyage from London to Melbourne, 5 May—22 October 1849. Quarto, closely written on rectos of 102 leaves, with a coloured route map mounted on linen; quarter morocco preserving the original manuscript title label. Two leaves towards the end slightly defective.

A detailed account of a disharmonious and at times harrowing voyage in the emigrant ship John Munn, in which Trollope and his family were cabin passengers. Within a few days of sailing from Gravesend his young daughter died, and was buried at Plymouth. For the next five months of the unbroken passage to Adelaide there was continual friction over poor provisions and drunken, riotous behaviour, and dissension over religious services. Conditions became progressively worse and culminated in an attempted mutiny by several of the crew, who set upon the Captain. He was rescued by passengers and three of the culprits put in irons; but this led to a strike by the rest of the crew so that the passengers were forced to take the watches. When finally they arrived at Adelaide, of which Trollope gives an interesting description, he sent an anonymous letter of complaint to the editor of the Register. Its publication drew an indignant response from the Captain, a rejoinder from Trollope, and a commentary by the editor, who had been shown the present journal, supporting his allegations. Copies of this correspondence, extracted from the Register, are tipped-in. With Trollope's The Roman Catholics of Port Phillip and their champion: a parting word on Tridentine Romanism, Melbourne, 1850, pp. 20 (not in Ferguson); 3 pamphlet sermons by him, Hobart, 1853 and 1856 (two not in Ferguson and his 17351); and a copy of the Hobart Town Advertiser for 19 March 1852 including an advertisement for a school at Oatlands run by Trollope. $1500-2000

615 TURNBULL, Henry. Autograph manuscript account of his journey of exploration with Leichhardt's second expedition, of 1846-47, being the text of a lecture he delivered in Launceston in 1857: 101 pages of a small quarto exercise book, original gilt-ruled black roan, the front endpaper inscribed in the hand of Baron von Mueller 'Lecture delivered by the late Henry M. Turnbull in Launceston 1855' (amended in another hand to 1857), and further inscribed by him 'Transferred by Ferd. von Mueller to Mrs. Turnbull'.

The 'lost' manuscript of Turnbull's narrative of Leichhardt's seven-month expedition from the Darling Downs north to the Peake Range in 1846-47: known to scholars only from a typescript taken from this original during the 1950s, and published in 1983. Along with Leichhardt's own log and letters, and the journals of Mann, Bunce and Hely, this is a primary source for the expedition, supplying additional details and, as Colin Roderick points out, shedding a more favourable light on Leichhardt's much-maligned character (Leichhardt the dauntless explorer, pp. 233-34 and passim).

The expedition left the Darling Downs in December 1846, travelling north for some 800 miles until illness, bad weather, hostile terrain and other difficulties forced their return. Before joining the party Turnbull was employed by the Australian Agricultural Company as assistant-superintendent of horse-stock at its Avon Station, near Stroud, north of Newcastle. In 1844 he had encountered

Leichhardt in the bush: the explorer recorded in his diary that 'I got to know Mr. Turnbull, a pleasant young man in the service of the Company, who was taking brood mares to their land on the Peel. We chatted far into the night, and I enjoyed a splendid refreshing night's rest at his fire'. His adventurous spirit moved the young man to run away to join the 1846 expedition, and his experience in the bush and with stock made him a valuable asset.

He writes well, giving a vivid and detailed picture of the expedition's progress: of camp life, the terrain, and the birds and other wildlife they saw; of their encounters with Aborigines; and of the suffering of the party from sandflies, hornets and mosquitoes, and from ague and exposure. His references to Leichhardt include a memorable description of the leader, armed with a sword, fighting a huge kangaroo. He also records that his journal and papers relating to the expedition were lost in a flood in 1852: this is therefore the only source for his account of it.

It is not surprising that the manuscript should have been borrowed by Mueller. The famous botanist was actively involved in attempts to mount a Leichhardt search expedition, and in 1855-56 was himself exploring in the far north with A.C. Gregory's expedition.

Sold with a copy of Leichhardt's second journey, a first-hand account, 1983.

637 WEDGE, John Helder. Autograph letter, signed, Bellarine Point [Port Phillip], 10 August 1835, to John Batman, Kingston, Ben Lomond Rivulet [Van Diemen's Land]: 4 pages octavo, slight seal damage without loss.

Highly important letter from Wedge to Batman, writing from Port Phillip two months after Batman's expedition in the Rebecca on behalf of the Port Phillip Association. Following his triumphant return to Launceston, the Association resolved to send another of its members, the surveyor Wedge, to investigate possible sites at the proposed settlement.

'I hope', Wedge writes, 'that you and the rest of the gentlemen will agree in the propriety of sending more provisions to be issued in daily rations to the natives – this will, I am quite satisfied, make permanent the friendly intercourse you established on your recent trip. ... Buckley [who had emerged from the bush in July], will be of essential service to us, and I hope you and all concerned will do our utmost to back the Petition for his pardon – if it should be refused, he will probably take to the bush again – and in that event there is no knowing the extent of bloodshed that might follow. As an act of humanity towards those who may reside here his free pardon ought to be granted – especially when combined with the consideration of the probability of the utility he will be of in furthering our object in bringing these benighted beings into a state of civilization, and from darkness to the light of the Gospel’.

He signs off ‘Such a voyage!!! With kind remembrances to the old lady and her clutch’, but adds a fateful postscript: ‘Your brother and myself are going to start on Wednesday to look out for the best situation to form the establishments upon – this place [Indented Head] will not do – the supply of water is deficient, and what there is is of the worst quality – and little or none in the summer. Whatever is done here would be lost labor. From what I have at present seen I think the fresh water river at the head of the Port will be the place’. This of course was the Yarra River, which was named by Wedge.

Years later, John Pascoe Fawkner wrote that when Wedge reached the head of the bay and found Fawkner’s party had arrived a few days earlier, he realised Batman’s mistake in making Indented Head his base, and hurriedly moved to abandon that settlement in favour of a site on the Yarra. The present letter makes it clear that in fact Wedge had already decided on this course of action. His account of his expedition was published in the Journal of the Royal Geographical Society in 1836 as ‘Narrative of an excursion amongst the natives of Port Phillip on the south coast of New Holland’.
